

Multicultural Night

Hello! My name is Jayden and I am in the 5th grade.

How We are Similar

I just wanted to say that even though we might think, feel, or look different than one another, we are all similar in some kind of way. One way that we are similar is that we all have fears, likes, dislikes, good days and bad days. And that's only one reason. There are many more.

How We are Different

Everyone has similarities, but people still have differences such as religion and culture to be more specific. It's those differences that make us so beautiful. Our diversity makes us strong. Some of us pray; some of us don't. Some of us speak more than one language. Some of us have family in other countries. Some of us don't. But we all have things we do such as a special dance or special holiday, but besides religion we have culture.

Culture

The funny thing is that we are all here to show each other about our culture. Our cultures say who we are and who our ancestors were. A big thing about our cultures is that some cultures have holidays about important people in our culture's history. For example, people who founded our countries, states or continents. We all have special foods from our cultures like meats, fruits, and vegetables that we eat during festivals, birthdays or just every day. Besides food, we have clothing. We all have many clothes, but the clothes I'm talking about are usually used for special times of the year...maybe for a birthday or a new baby is being born, marches and more.

Thank You

I want to thank you for taking the time to come to multicultural night and for listening to my speech.
